Is now a good time
to think about private medical insurance?

Already have a company medical policy?

Respond quickly to keep the best cover

The good news is that you can transfer the medical insurance provided by your previous employer to a policy held by you, without losing your cover for most pre-existing conditions.

Timescales vary between insurers, but can be as little as 30 days from the date you leave your existing policy. The sooner you contact us, the more options will be available to you.

Setting up your own business?

If you are leaving us to set up your own business, you may be able to continue your cover. The Willis Towers Watson Enterprise team specialises in providing healthcare advice to small businesses, and can help to steer you in the right direction.

Introducing Advocate - for extra support

Sometimes people want an extra helping hand to ensure they get the best from their healthcare policies. The Willis Towers Watson Advocate service helps members to use the right healthcare benefits for each claim, offering information on NHS options if they are appropriate. The Advocate service provides support and advice throughout the claims process, working with insurers to get the best for you.

“ Their customer service has been nothing less than exemplary. ” Mr Bunn

Starting a new job, setting up a new business or retiring... such major life milestones can be exciting and motivating, but they can also be very stressful. Let us give you one less thing to worry about - your health.

Private medical insurance can be one of the best investments that you ever make for yourself and your family.

As one of the UK's leading private medical insurance brokers, we will carry out a full, free review of all the UK's leading healthcare providers to make sure you're getting the best deal and cover for you and your family.

Why go private?

- Prompt treatment at a time and location to suit you
- Faster access to relevant consultants
- A clean, comfortable private room, in most cases with en-suite bathroom, TV and radio
